Dear Georgia,

RCOG 9th International Scientific Meeting, 27 – 30 Sept 2011
Megaron Athens International

I would like to thank you and all your staff, especially Vicky Nickolopoulou, for successfully organising our 9th Scientific Meeting in Athens in September. It was a difficult and challenging meeting to organise with the current economic difficulties in Europe and especially Greece and yet you succeeded in not only running a highly successful event but also delivered a reasonable financial surplus.

Your team rose to every challenge including the transport strikes that were happening every day and you managed to organise coaches as needed. All other aspects of the meeting were efficiently and willingly organised and no request was too much trouble.

Vicky and her team were involved from the initial planning stages of the event, advising and organising the submission of abstracts, the marketing to Greek delegates, all speaker arrangements including transfers from the airport and of course all on site arrangements.

Considering the complexity of the event with around 1,000 participants, the event was very smooth and we have extremely good feedback.

Please pass our thanks on to all concerned and we hope to be back to Athens one day.

With Best Wishes

Lynn Whitley
